

which suggest a more ultramafic lithology.

The conductor plates are deeper than those on the main northern trend and two RC drill holes have been planned for this target.

Next steps

The RC drill rig has arrived on site and collared the first of the planned 18 drill holes.

It is anticipated that the drill program will take three weeks to complete with assay results available two weeks later.

Each RC drill hole will also be cased and prepared for down-hole EM surveying which will then be used to better constrain and orientate the conductors for subsequent phases of RC and diamond drilling.

The drill hole planning is designed to intersect the middle and upper portions of the conductor plates where the EM response is strongest.
