Cybersecurity company A10 Networks reports beat on 2Q earnings and revenue

A10 Networks Inc (NYSE:ATEN) reported on Thursday beats on second quarter earnings and revenue although first half revenue was lower than the same period in 2017.

The company said earnings per share reversed to a gain of US$0.02, compared with a loss of US$0.01 in the same period a year ago and expectations of a loss of US$0.02 for the quarter. Revenues for the second quarter reached US$60.7m, up sharply from the expected US$55.9m and the US$60.29m posted in the year-ago period.

First half revenue came in at US$109.9m, compared with US$117.9m in the first half of 2017.

A10 Networks president and chief Lee Chen said they were able to build momentum in cloud and security operations.

"There are a number of trends in the market that play to A10's strengths that we believe present many opportunities for growth over the long-term," he said.

Shares of the company closed on Thursday up 0.43% at US$6.93.

A10 Networks is based in San Jose, California. The company is a provider of intelligent and automated cybersecurity solutions.
