Zelda Therapeutics on rapid path to medicinal cannabis commercialisation

Zelda Therapeutics Ltd (ASX:ZLD) is on a rapid path to commercialisation of its medicinal cannabis products aimed at treating pain, anxiety, sleep apnea and cancer.

The company's managing director Dr Richard Hopkins told investors at this week's Proactive CEO Sessions in Sydney and Melbourne that the company is well placed to service a rapidly growing global market.

He said the company was building a portfolio of clinically validated assets which presented multiple revenue opportunities to license and generate milestone and royalty payments.

This strategy was well advanced because the company had a singular focus on clinical validation to address key unmet needs.

Market dynamics

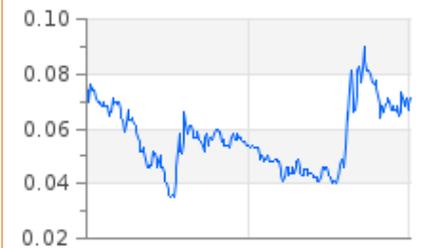

Among the interesting medicinal cannabis market dynamics outlined were:

- Medicinal cannabis is legal in more than 34 countries and in 35 US states;
- Only around 1% of the population in the US and Canada is registered to use medicinal cannabis;
- The medicinal cannabis market is forecast to grow to $40-55 billion by 2028 (18% CAGR);
- Around US$20 billion has been raised by medicinal cannabis companies over the last four years; and
- 21 kilograms is the amount of cannabis required to consume for a lethal dose.
