Trio of tech groups step into the spotlight to star in Proactive's next virtual forum - UPDATE

Proactive's next virtual webinar on Tuesday, August 11 will now feature three small tech companies with a whole lot of growth potential.

Attending the event, in addition to Sigma Labs Inc (NASDAQ:SGLB) and FansUnite Entertainment Inc (CNSX:FANS), will also be TraceSafe Inc (CSE:TSF) (OCTMKTS:UTOLF).

Hosted by Christine Corrado live from New York, the Proactive One2One Investor Forum will take place start at 1pm EST on Tuesday, and will feature live webcast presentations from the companies' management with participants then given the opportunity to put their questions to the corporate presenters. TraceSafe's late addition makes the event even more topical, with the firm's real-time contact tracing solutions in high demand during the current coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic as governments' globally attempt to control the return after lockdown.

TraceSafe's leading cloud management solution, enabled through advanced bluetooth beacons in a variety of form factors, ensures both user privacy and comprehensive administrative control and is deployed in mission-critical quarantine applications around the world in partnership with leading governments.

Only last week, TraceSafe announced that it is teaming up with Indian technology startup Spykke Innovations to deploy the quarantine management solutions in Bengaluru, India.

Elsewhere, materials specialist Sigma Labs - founded in 2010 - has gained a foothold in the aerospace and defense community with its real-time computer-aided inspection (CAI) solutions, known as PrintRite3D for 3D advanced manufacturing.

The firm's products and services are engineered, manufactured, and qualify for use in highly demanding production environments.

The direct metal 3D printing industry, also called simply additive manufacturing (AM), produces three-dimensional precision metal parts, which would not have been possible even a few years ago.

But companies using it struggle with quality and reliability, especially for complex parts. That's where the firm's technology comes in. The webinar will lift the lid and explain the cutting edge technology and where Sigma Labs fits into this space.
